ARMSTRONG CEILING SOLUTIONS TO INCREASE PRICE OF SUSPENSION SYSTEMS

LANCASTER, PA – Effective December 11th, 2023, Armstrong Ceiling Solutions will initiate an increase of 15.0% on the list price of all acoustical and drywall suspension systems.

This increase is compelled by recent steel mill price increases, industry capacity constraints and anticipated extended lead times.

This Pricing Bulletin is based on current available information and reflects conditions at this time. Consistent with past practices, we will provide updated pricing information in the form of list pricing, bulletins or other notifications, as appropriate, as additional information becomes available. As always, you remain free to quote, price and contract at whatever pricing you may choose in your discretion.

Please always feel free to contact your local sales rep with any questions or requests for assistance.

We will continue to focus on delivering innovative high-quality products and world class service to our valued customers, and the ceilings and wall solutions they value.

As always, we appreciate and thank you for your business.
